

GORDON MASSACRED.

meeting of the leading Tories to consider what line of action to adopt in the coming session of parliament. The Tories will support the measures of the government to retrieve England's position in the Sudan, but will move for the appointment of a committee of inquiry as to the responsibility for the dispatch of the Nile expedition. Gordon's friends state that he undertook the Nile route against his own opinion, which was in favor of the Suakin and Berber route, and that the government, for the purpose of economy, broke its promise to supply the number of troops for which he asked.

NEWSPAPER COMMENTS.

The Fall Mail Gazette in an editorial on the situation in the Sudan says: "England may not need military aid in the Sudan, but she does need camels, which the Turks only can supply. The sultan is anxious to co-operate with England on the basis of the recognition of his sovereignty over Egypt. If the government reject his offer, they may have to face the combined hostility of El Mahdi and the caliph of Islam."

The Globe referring to the recent published letter containing a report of a conversation between a clergyman and a former prefect of police under Arabi, during which the latter said that Wilfrid Blunt was the only living man able to effect for England a peaceful solution of the Sudan question, says: "The national party of Egypt, combined with the French party at Cairo, have again and again in every capital of Europe and are intriguing to use a revolt against El Mahdi as a means of overthrowing the alien khedive government. The intrigues consist of the adherents of Arabi. Several of them reside in London and hold influential positions and would willingly have assisted Blunt's schemes to negotiate with El Mahdi. Premier Gladstone, however, knew the means Blunt intended to employ to reach El Mahdi, and therefore rejected the scheme. Many of Blunt's friends are still of the opinion that the capture and crucifixion of El Mahdi would only accentuate his claim among the Moslems to be regarded as the prophet of Islam."

FRENCH CANADIAN VOLUNTEERS.

MONTREAL, P. Q., Feb. 10.—Capt. S. E. Poirer has written to the governor general offering to raise a regiment of French Canadian volunteers for service in Egypt or elsewhere. Capt. Poirer saw several years' service in Italy and went to the Northwest with the mounted police in 1873. It is thought that the offer will be accepted.

FRANCE HAS AN EYE ON THE RED SEA.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The government has asked the chamber of deputies for a credit of $90,000 with which to organize a French settlement at Onok, on Tadjurah bay, on the west coast of the gulf of Aden, and for the better establishment of French protectorate over Tadjurah. The Tadjurah country lies at the mouth of the Red sea, not far from the district recently taken possession of by Italy in its occupation of Hailut.

THE SUAKIM CAMPAIGN.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Gen. Newgate will command the expedition to Suakin. Col. Graves will be chief of staff. The Suakin campaign will open, it is calculated, on the 8th of March. Orders have been sent throughout the country bordering on the west and south coast of the Red sea for the purchase of cattle for the use of the new expedition. At Suakin preparations have been made for the landing of the expedition.

JOHN BULL'S TRUSTING FOR GLORY. The offers of officers for the volunteers for the service in the Sudan are more than ample. Military experts are of the opinion that the campaign will last eighteen months. Maj. Gen. Newgate has suddenly been summoned to London from Dover in connection with the Sudan expedition.

REJOICING AT CAIRO.

CAIRO, Feb. 10.—There is great rejoicing at Cairo over the decision of the English government to dispatch troops to Suakin. It is believed that the tribes inclined to be friendly will forthwith join the British, in which event the opening of the Berber road will be rendered much easier. It is reported that the Italians are about to set out on the march to relieve Kassala and Soudan co-operating with the English to open Suakin and Berber.

AN INCREDIBLE MURDER.

Lot Wright's Accounts.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Judge Reynolds, first auditor of the treasury, has concluded his examination of the accounts of Marshal Wright of Cincinnati, of the expenses incurred during the Ohio election, and has referred them to the first comptroller for final examination. The first auditor allows all the items except those for the fees of deputy marshals who were not residents of the state of Ohio. There were about fifty such deputies, whose fees had been fixed at $10.

The Dynamiter Released.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Richard Short, who stabbed Capt. Phelan in O'Donovan Rossa's office, was released on $3000 bail yesterday, after efforts had been made to have the amount reduced to $2000. Dennis Corbett of West Thirty-ninth street, a liquor dealer, became his bondman. John Roche, George Smith, "Rocky Mountain" O'Brien and a dozen others as companions of Short across the street to Counsel Oliver's office, where a reception was held. Short received a letter from Cork, informing him of the death of his wife on the 19th inst. It is said that a dozen persons are ready to make the bail good to Corbett should Short leave town.

THE EDITORS OFF.

Speech-Making and a General Good Time, Intermingled With Business.

GALVESTON, TEX., Feb. 10.—The Texas Press association assembled here to-day. By 2 o'clock about seventy-five members had arrived. An address of welcome was made by Maj. Fulton. In the course of his remarks he said:

"I merely whisper it to the younger and less experienced of your fraternity, such as Maj. McGary and Col. Bill Sterett, for instance, that our police regulations are not very stringent, that much latitude will be given upon this particular occasion, and that if it comes to the worst, we have a city recorder who is amiable at all times and who is peculiarly partial to the editorial fraternity."

One of the pleasant features of today's gathering was a brief speech by the Hon. Carl Schurz, who was introduced by President Hall. At the conclusion of Mr. Schurz's address he was unanimously elected an honorary member of the association.

Another feature was the presentation by a Mr. W. A. Shaw to the association of the baton which belonged to the First Texas regiment, and which figured in Pat Dowling's famous "42" Irish company at the battle of Sabine Pass, and which also smelled the burn of battle on the wharves of Galveston New-Year's day of 1863.

Lieut. Klingburg's Diary.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—The diary of Lieut. Klingburg of the Greely party is made public. The following are extracts:

"Lieut. G.'s conduct lately in threatening to shoot Cross, without the slightest reason, the other day, and swearing to the men on other occasions without reason; his silly actions lately in controlling the launch when there are better men who can do it; his carrying a pistol, a small self-cocking arrangement, is too ridiculous. Confound the man! Why can't he be sensible and do things right?"

The arrest of Dr. Pavy was a put-up job, as will be proven when this farce is investigated. The sleeping bags were covered with snow and there were no tents. Lieut. G. was on the launch alongside the boiler covered by canvas and comfortable.

Referring to Lieut. Greely again, he writes: "In fact he does nothing right and our reaching this place is due only to good fortune and hard work and the good management of the men."

After learning of the wreck of the Proteus, Lieut. Klingburg says: "God bless my friend Garlington for his efforts, as also our government. I was struck favorably when reading Garlington's last record telling us of the wreck. In closing he showed such indifference for their critical condition and misfortune and said that he would do everything man could do for us. I was affected nearly to tears and my voice nearly failed me when reading aloud."

The last entry is an account of how Lieut. Greely asked Lieut. Klingburg's forgiveness for his treatment of him, and only a few days later flew into a passion and in a loud and insulting manner called the latter a liar.

Lieut. Klingburg says to-night that the pistol mentioned in Klingburg's diary was not belonging to Lieut. Greely and he (Greely) carried it to Lookwood and he (Greely) declares as a favor to that officer. He also declares that he is not a profane man but did use very emphatic language when the launch grounded on the falling tide. It is true that he called Freilighausen a liar, but subsequently apologized and before the death of the latter they became reconciled.

HOUSTON.

The Narrow Escape of an Old Woman's Savings from the Flames.

HOUSTON, TEX., Feb. 10.—Two leading gambling houses here have had a feud and the attacks are acting as if a collision was imminent. Two of the rival attacks had a fight to-night and one beat the other, who then got a pistol and went in pursuit of his fleeing enemy, when policemen arrested him.

The criminal court is convicting the keepers of disorderly houses. It was rumored that $5000 in money was burned in the conflagration last night that belonged to the old widow owner. This was an exaggeration, the amount being $2700. All of it was found, $2000 in a bag between burned mattresses and $700 in a cigar box among the debris. The firemen found both amounts.

Carl Schurz lectured to a fair house to-night for the benefit of the Light Guard, and left for San Antonio.

Dr. J. L. Flattery, a specialist, aged 63 years, died this morning before day, while sitting in his chair. The cause was tumor of the stomach.

Miss Fisher is well known here in society circles.

For some time past she has acted as organist for the Methodist church. She is a fine musician and a highly accomplished lady. Mr. Freeman is well known generally through North Texas as an elegant gentleman and a man of great worth and ability. The presents were numerous and elegant. The happy couple left to-night for Sherman. The friends of both parties are numerous and all wish them a happy and prosperous life.

WEATHERFORD.

Frank Freeze in a Critical Condition from the Effect of His Wounds.

WEATHERFORD, TEX., Feb. 10.—H. M. Martin, the man who stabbed Frank Freeze and Frank Dorsey on the night of the 8th inst., seems to be reconciled to his new quarters in the county hotel on Palo Pinto street. He is a man of medium height, of light complexion, with sandy hair and beard. He has anything but an intelligent look in his eyes. His knife was found yesterday in Dr. Claud's yard, a distance of about 200 yards from the place of the assassination. The old man, Martin's father-in-law, was released from custody Monday morning. Mr. Freeze is in a very critical condition. The doctor thinks the knife penetrated the stomach, and perhaps struck his liver. Mr. Dorsey's condition is very much improved. He is very cheerful, conversing freely with his nurse and physician and says that he feels no pain. The young men of the town have taken the responsibility of nursing the wounded men.

The case of S. J. Varner vs. W. J. Carson et al. occupied the court's time yesterday. The plaintiff's evidence was rejected at the time of adjournment. This morning one of the jurors sent word to the court that he was sick, hence the case was continued until Monday next.

The case of Jones vs. the Texas & Pacific railroad company was called for trial.

The county commissioners' court is in session this week.

Mr. I. W. Stephens to-day received a telegram from Mr. Frank Freeze's father, dated Sparta, Tenn., stating that he would start here to-day.

CUTICURA

LEPROSY OF THE JEWS.

A Wild Burning Itch, that strikes with a Throat and Electric Itching Needles.

EDITOR ALTONA, PA.: "ALL—I wish to say something in praise of that valuable medicine, CUTICURA, which I saw advertised in your paper. I have been a sufferer from it for many years, and I have tried every remedy, but I have not been able to cure it. It has many other virtues, and I have used it for over thirty years.
